

Treating Others Fairly Chapter 13

1. How have you developed an approach in working with people that has helped you improve in being fair-minded and gentle?
2. What are some relationships in your life which you have difficulty being fair-minded and gentle in handling people?
3. How can we maintain a better balance between being accepting, tolerant, and fair, making tough decisions gently?
4. How have people taken advantage of your efforts at being tolerant, fair, and considerate? Do you feel you were too compassionate? Or would you take the same approach again?
5. Can you cite the times people took advantage of Jesus when He demonstrated this kind of gentleness? In what way did this happen to Paul?