

Being Christian in a Hostile World Sermon Series

Week Ten (11/14/21): The Weight and Wait of Glory

When you think about standing face-to-face with God and having a life review, what thoughts and feelings come to mind? Whatever your immediate response, it's likely fair to say that none of us want to stand before Him and learn that we had lived a life of conflict against His will for our life. With this in mind, it's important to keep the coming kingdom of Jesus in focus and continue to radically pursue God's will for you.

Scripture Text: 2 Peter 3:14-18

Sermon Points:

1. As Christians, we make it our life's goal to be ready to meet our God
2. As Christians, we must avoid being deceived by growing in Jesus

Discussion Question Options:

- What are some items on your bucket list? Things you've been looking forward to, or life goals you hope to attain before it's too late?
- If Jesus were to return today, would you be found at peace? Why or why not?
- How does your experience with the hostility, pressure, and deception of the world feel like the threat of being "carried away" from the security of a "well done" welcome by Jesus on the day to come?
- What will you put into action this week to be placing God first and shifting your priorities more to Him? Do we just need more things to do, or is it more of a heart-shift that's needed? Pray for one another for this essential practice.
