

Broken Relationships

Discussion Questions:

1. How is your work/life balance? Is your work life something that honors God and your family, or are you caught up in pursuing the things of this world to the detriment of your relationships?
2. Would your family and friends describe you as kind and tenderhearted or are you often grumpy and dismissive? Does your demeanor communicate to those around you that you value them?
3. How are you doing in extending grace and forgiveness to others? Does remembering how Christ has forgiven you help you be gracious with others?
