

Title: Step Into The Arena

Passage: Acts 4

Big Idea: God calls us to be bold as we lead our family, friends, & co-workers.

1. In order for us to lead courageously, we must be confident in _____.
2. In order for us to lead courageously, God wants us to _____boldly.
3. In order for us to lead courageously, we must _____boldly.

Discussion Questions:

1. How confident are you in Jesus's leadership in your daily life? What does that confidence look like in your life?
2. What are your prayers like? What's your rhythm of prayer? How can your prayer time be more intentional and bolder?
3. What is your next step to be bold and lead your family, friends, and co-workers? Pray together and encourage each other to take these steps. Come up with a plan this next week and share it with someone.

Chad Hoffman

Chad serves as the Small Groups Director and assists Chuck with Discipleship that might be helpful. He is a Seminary grad with a passion for teaching a clear gospel message that any culture, age, and audience can understand.

Chad and his wife sold and/or gave everything away and moved to New Zealand just 2 years after being married. They came back to Texas 6 months later with $0 in the bank; deciding it was one of the best decisions ever made together. Now, they spend a lot of time outside and can be found at the ranch, coaching his son's baseball team, or just playing with friends in the neighborhood. Chad's daughter has grown fond of Volleyball (takes after her momma), so that is also becoming a part of the family's seasonal lives. If not outside, they will be watching a movie, traveling, or finding a new place to eat in the Austin area.

Title: Step Into The Arena

Passage: Acts 4

Big Idea: God calls us to be bold as we lead our family, friends, & co-workers.

1. In order for us to lead courageously, we must be confident in who we follow.
2. In order for us to lead courageously, we must pray boldly.
3. In order for us to lead courageously, we must move boldly.

Discussion Questions:

1. How confident are you in Jesus's leadership in your daily life? What does that confidence look like in your life?
2. What are your prayers like? What's your rhythm of prayer? How can your prayer time be more intentional and bolder?
3. What is your next step to be bold and lead your family, friends, and co-workers? Pray together and encourage each other to take these steps. Come up with a plan this next week and share it with someone.

Spring 2022 Session 8

Spring 2022 Session 8