

THIS IS HOW WE CHANGE THE WORLD

Week 3: Shop 'til You Drop

We all want to make a difference. We want our actions to matter. Some actions have a profound effect on us and those around us. These are actions we should double down on. These actions are how we can change the world.

Discussion Questions

1. If you could have or do one thing for your birthday, what would it be?
2. How do you see selfishness show up in our culture?
3. How do you think our culture promotes or condones the idea of being selfish?
4. Read Philippians 2:3–8. Paul describes an “others first” mentality. How would your relationships look different if you approached every interaction with this mentality?
5. Gerald quoted Tony Evans in saying: “Service was never a threat to Jesus because he never lost sight of who he was.” How do you think our insecurities prevent us from being selfless and serving others? How does it change our view of serving others to know who God says we are?
6. What is one thing you can do this week to cultivate an “others first” mentality in your life?

Changing Your Mind

When you know your identity in Jesus, you are free to love others without fear or insecurity. Your selfless love will help others find their identities in Jesus, too, and experience the life and purpose that can only be found in him. This is how we change the world.
