

GAMES WE PLAY

Deuteronomy 1:6-8

The Delay Game

A game that requires a loser is a game nobody wins.

Discussion Questions

1. In what area of your life do you most commonly find yourself playing the delay game? Why do you think this might be?
2. Where have you stayed too long? What would it look like for you to break camp?
3. What do you think could be on the other side of your obedience to trust God and go where He is leading you?
4. The delay game often begins with the words “one day when”. What is a step you feel like you need to take, but you are waiting for “one day when”? Who could support you as you take this step?
