

His Will, His Way

The hardest part of waiting isn't always the delay itself. Sometimes it's the uncertainty of why God seems absent when we need him most.

Discussion Questions:

1. What's one word you'd use to describe your current season—predictable or uncertain? What makes you say that?
2. Do you find it easier to trust God is with you in small uncertainties or big ones? How come?
3. Read John 11:32 aloud.
When Mary reached the place where Jesus was and saw him, she fell at his feet and said, "Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died."
How do you relate to Mary's statement, "Lord, if you had been here..." in your own seasons of waiting?
4. Read Hebrews 11:1 aloud.
Now faith is confidence in what we hope for and assurance about what we do not see.
What do you think that verse means? How might this description of faith help you view waiting differently?
5. What situation are you facing that feels uncertain, and how could you take a step to believe God is still at work?
