

Week 1: From Wandering to Purpose

Discussion Questions

1. When you think about the next five years, do you have goals in mind, or do you prefer to see where life takes you?
2. If you could accomplish one thing in the next five years—big or small—what would it be?

Read Joshua 3:1–5, 17.

3. Have you ever had to move forward in life without knowing what would happen next? How did you handle it?
4. Joshua told the people to get ready because God was about to do something big. How do you prepare yourself for change or new opportunities?
5. The Israelites had to take action to reach the promised land. Why do you think having a plan or goal makes a difference in life?
6. The priests stood in the middle of the Jordan so others could cross safely. Who in your life has helped you move forward when you felt stuck?

7. What is one area of your life (e.g., personal, professional, spiritual) where you need more direction? What is one step you can take this week to start moving toward clarity?

Moving Forward

If you don't want to wander through life, it's time to move with purpose. Clarify your vision, make a plan, and commit to it—small steps lead to big change. Just like Joshua, stepping into what's next takes faith, direction, and action. So, what's your next step?
