What Do You Have In Your House?

Whether it's a possession, time, or a talent, we all have access to something God can use for the sake of others. But nothing is usable unless we first make it available.

Discussion Questions

1. What's in your house (literally or figuratively) that God could use if you were willing to make it available?
2. What emotion threw itself in front of you when you considered acting on your answer to the first question (fear, greed, shame, etc.)?
3. Would you be willing to ask God for the courage to open your hands so that he could open his?
